Title: VP of Engineering

With Hannon Hill since: 2004

Twitter: @bradleywagner

What I do, in 140 characters or less: I coordinate product development for our two products and help turn suggestions and ideas into features

What I like most about working at Hannon Hill: Hannon Hill is that rare combination of an awesome work environment, engaging work and dedicated people that care both about the work they do and the company culture that they are helping create. We foster an environment that values autonomy and still have a very tight-knit team.

Favorite book or author: What is the What - Dave Eggers

What others say about Bradley:

"Bradley Wagner's diet consists of the highest concentration of organically grown foods I've ever seen." - Joel Baxter

"Bradley loves to wear hats indoors. I was raised to think that was rude but somehow when Bradley does it, it comes off as appropriate. Almost polite, even." - Chris Armistead

"Bradley is Hannon Hill's Einstein. Nobody can weigh pros and cons and play devil's advocate like he can. He always has the best interest of our customers at heart, which is why each Cascade feature is well thought-out and intended to provide real value instead of flashiness. He also expects value and high quality from any food that he puts in his body." - Kat Liendgens

"I don't think anyone could be more dedicated to making Cascade Server a better product and Hannon Hill a better company as Bradley Wagner consistently is." - Darrick Alford

//about-us/bradley-wagneractiveYessite://Internet/about-us/bradley-wagnerInternetbradley-wagnerBradley WagnerBradley WagnerBradley is the brains and strategic vision behind Cascade Server. A graduate of Rice University, Bradley has been with Hannon Hill for many years and seen it through many iterations. He always keeps our clients' best interest in mind when it comes to deciding which features will be implemented in future versions of the product. Bradley's main goal is to ensure that Cascade Server is a great product for technical users and business users alike.
