Registration is now open for our annual Cascade Server User's Conference! The 2008 conference will take place in Atlanta, GA on Monday, September 22nd and Tuesday, September 23rd, 2008. Conference planning is underway, and you can expect to find more detailed information about conference scheduling, sessions topics, our Open House, and the like in the coming months.

The 2007 Cascade Server User's Conference was a huge success and we're already working on making this year's conference even better. Based on feedback from last year's conference and conference survey, we are putting together our best conference line-up thus far.

We are going to offer more user-driven sessions, more hands-on relevant demos relating to specific functionality, more basic-user intro sessions, and case studies. We are also considering doing an "instance check-up", in which members of our team would take a look at your instance of Cascade and make suggestions for improvement.

In order for us to provide the best information sessions possible, we need your help! The Call for Speakers for this year's conference is now open. Speakers will receive not only the undying appreciation of our staff, but also, recognition from their peers and free conference admission!

Please don't forget to register for this year's Cascade Server User's Conference! Space and accommodations are limited and the deadline to sign-up is July 15, 2008.

We look forward to seeing all of you who attended last year's conference, and many new faces as well!
