2007 Cascade Server User's Conference

Thanks to everyone who came out to Atlanta to make our second annual Cascade Server User's Conference a success! We had over eighty attendees from forty-five different organizations, and excellent speakers from Brandeis University, Texas A&M Health Science Center, University of Richmond, and Hannon Hill. Videos and slides from this year's presentations will be online shortly.

We're already thinking about next year, so please send any feedback you have. If you came this year, let us know what worked, and what didn't work. If you missed it, we still want to know what you're interested in seeing for the 2008 User's Conference.

Hope to see you all next year!
