135 People in Attendance for Recent WCM Webinar

Friday, December 11th, 2009 at 10:00am -- Uran Piedra

On Tuesday, Hannon Hill held its first feature release webinar aimed at helping clients understand the new features of the web content management product. Hosted by Hannon Hill Software Engineer Syl Turner, the hour long webinar demoed the new features of our most recent release, Cascade Server 6.4. We received an overwhelming response to this live demo opportunity and had 135 people in attendance. During the demonstration, Syl showcased the features in Cascade Server 6.4 including the product's Twitter and WordPress Connectors, Syntax Highlighter, Drag and Drop Data Definition Builder, Broadcast Messages, and the new 'compare with current' capabilities debuted with this release. The webinar also provided an open forum for our users and prospects to direct questions about the new release to those who developed it. This webinar was a huge success; 100% of post-webinar survey respondents indicated they would attend the next feature-related webinar from Hannon Hill. Stay tuned for more information on upcoming webinars by subscribing to our blog RSS feed.
